

2018 Fidélitas Estate Malbec

This is the first of what will become a long line of 100% varietal Malbecs out of our Fidélitas Estate. Since planting in 2015 and first vinifying in 2017 we've had our eye on this juice as our first Estate single varietal to add to the Estate Cabernet. One, because we love Malbec grown on Red Mountain, and two, the quality was amazing and complex for such young vines. In the glass this wine has an extremely dark purple color with a violet ring. Dark berry, violet, and cigar box; intense but lovely aroma that jumps out of the glass. The palate has a rich—plush tannin structure with subtle white pepper spiciness; we get blue berry and vanilla bean on the finish. A wine that drinks incredibly well now, but putting away for 3-5 years in the cellar is recommended. Serve with all sorts of barbeque, both meat and veggie dishes.
